LEO'S CONDITION IS VERY GRAVE

THE PONTIFF SUFFERED ANOTHER RELAPSE.

Symptoms of the Most Alarming Nature Appear—Lappont Could Give Little Consolation—End Near at Hand.

LATEST BULLETIN FROM BEDSIDE.

Rome, July 14, 1:30 a. m.—The pope has passed a somewhat restless and agitated night. He awoke at 5:30 o'clock, but shortly after dropped again into a heavy sleep.

Rome, July 14, 2:15 a. m.—"While there is life there is hope," was all the consolation Dr. Lappont could give to night in admitting the pope's condition was "very grave." The pontiff suffered another relapse and he lies this morning in a more critical condition than at any time since the middle of last week. The semi-comatose condition into which he fell at midnight and the confused state of his heretofore lucid mind on his awakening early this morning, accompanied by still greater depression than during yesterday, are regarded as symptoms of the gravest nature and as pointing to imminent dissolution. Even in the early evening the medical opinion was less pessimistic and Dr. Mazzoni thought the end was not within sight. He expressed belief that unless the disease took an unexpected turn there was no reason to apprehend death for two or three days. This statement, however, did not relieve the anxiety of those who knew what powerful stimulants are being constantly administered. Some attribute the pontiff's extreme weakness to night to the excessive mental and physical efforts undertaken yesterday in receiving visitors, hearing mass, etc.

Never before has the patient's weakness progressed as it did yesterday. For the first time since his illness the pontiff asked to have the shutters almost closed, as the light hurt his eyes, and at the same time, contrary to his custom, he begged to be left as quiet as possible. Another noteworthy symptom of his weakening condition was the docility with which he took his medicine and nourishment. Previously, indeed during his whole life, Pope Leo has been against prescriptions of doctors or anything which had the aspect of being forced upon him. His feelings of fatigue and indifference was interpreted as a sign that his vitality was fast diminishing.

Late last evening nine cardinals, including Sotillo and Martini, were admitted to the sick room, but the pope could not even speak to them, merely giving them his hand to kiss.

At the American embassy it was stated no request, official or other, had been received up to yesterday for information regarding the pope's condition. King Edward has instructed the British ambassador, Sir Francis Bertie, to telegraph twice daily the state of his holiness.

The Tribune last night printed a statement that the pope's real ailment was cancer of the liver. Mazzoni characterizes the statement as a stupid falsehood without an atom of foundation.

VISITED BY PRINCE.

Portsmouth, July 13.—The prince of Wales visited the United States squadron this morning and breakfasted with Rear Admiral Cotton on the flagship Kearsarge. All ships in the harbor and the channel fleet at Spithead dressed ship in rainbow fashion, manned sides and fired the royal salute as the prince boarded the American flagship.

The prince was received on the quarter deck of the Kearsarge by Admiral Cotton and officers and the party descended to the admiral's cabin for breakfast, at which President Roosevelt and King Edward were seated. Cotton subsequently escorted the prince of Wales around the ship, after which the prince landed, with warships firing another royal salute, and took a train for London.

RETURNED TO WORK.

New York, July 13.—A thousand skilled mechanics in building trades returned to work to day under modified plans of the employers' association. This number will be increased to 50,000 by Wednesday, unions with that membership having voted to accept terms of employers. One of the effects will be to do away with walking delegates and refer all disputes to a joint board of arbitration. With the mechanics a large number of laborers returned to work and operations were resumed by material supply men.

LEHMANN'S SECOND TRIAL.

St. Louis, July 13.—Julius Lehmann, former member of the house of delegates, went to his second trial to day on charge of perjury in connection with the city lighting boodle deal, in which $75,000 is alleged to have been divided among members of the house combine. Lehmann was convicted at the first trial and sentenced to the penitentiary, but the supreme court reversed the verdict and remanded the case on a technicality.

There was an exchange of missiles, many windows were broken and a number of policemen and civilians injured. Strong reinforcements of police restored order. Similar rioting occurred at Carrick Hill.

He was brevetted brigadier general for conspicuous services. On one occasion, with 800 men, he blocked the advance of the Confederate army under General Hood and received credit for saving the Union army of the west.

NATURALIZATION LAW.

Washington, July 13.—The state department has given notice that it has construed the naturalization law passed by the last congress as requiring it to reject all certificates of naturalization issued after July 3, 1903, which fail to set forth the fact that the person naturalized is not affiliated with any organization so opposed; also that he does not advocate the killing of officers of the government.

LAST DAY OF ENDEAVORERS

FIVE SUNRISE MEETINGS ARE HELD.

Big Tent Blown Down and a Number are Injured—Statement by President Clark Concerning Union of Societies.

Denver, July 13.—Sunrise convention services in five churches marked the opening of the fifth and last day of the twenty-first biennial international Christian Endeavor convention. Large audiences attended these early meetings and thousands of Endeavorers pledged themselves anew to carry on the work which the organization has undertaken.

Before the home mission class of the Christian Endeavor convention to day, Rev. Mr. Chivers, of New York, drew from colored preachers and professors present the admission that not one colored preacher in the south is an educated man. The recent lynching of negroes was touched upon and Chivers got all the colored people present to agree with him that the outrages committed by the victims of mob violence were of the most fiendish sort and called for the most severe punishment. "But," said the speaker, "there should not be one punishment for the black and another for the white for similar crimes."

The afternoon meetings in Tent Endeavor were devoted to consideration of problems of the day affecting the nation. To night banners were presented to state unions showing as much as 10 per cent increase of membership. Nevada took first prize.

TENT BLOWN DOWN.

Denver, July 13.—Tent Endeavor, where the Christian Endeavor convention is being held, was blown down this afternoon while more than 8,000 people were attending services. Nearly a score were injured in the panic that followed, but none seriously. As soon as a majority of the people were extricated a praise service was held in the open air. At the suggestion of Delegate Ramsey, of Chicago, when the tent fell a hundred men sprang upon chairs and held up the canopies, thus undoubtedly preventing the suffocation of many in the tent. Miss Etta Ward of Chicago, had her back badly bruised by a pole falling upon her. Among those suffering from nervous shocks were: Miss Miss Blanche Fearer and Miss Adams, Oregon, Ill., and Miss Myrtle Moore and Miss Warren, Illinois.

CLARK'S STATEMENT.

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, to day replied to the statement made by Dr. Berry of the Epworth league that "union between the different young people's societies is impossible." Clark says such a union has already been accomplished to a large degree; that the Christian Endeavorers have already young people of twenty-seven denominations in this country alone. "The petition started at Denver," Clark says, "only asks that young people of all denominations be allowed to have freedom for fellowship which most of them now enjoy."

NOT PRACTICAL.

Minneapolis, July 13.—Bishop Isaac W. Joyce, president of the Epworth league, does not believe the proposed amalgamation of young people's societies is practical. "It is not practical," he says, "because the different young people's societies are too widely separated in their aims and objects to be united."

STRIKERS SENTENCED.

New Haven, Conn., July 13.—Patrick Murray and Thomas Sullivan, striking teamsters, who were convicted in the superior court last Friday of an assault on Joseph Kinney, a nonunion man, and also of conspiracy to assault Kinney, were to day sentenced by Judge Robinson. On the assault charge they were each sentenced to one year in the county jail and to pay a fine of $1. On the conspiracy charge each was given an indeterminate sentence of not less than fifteen months or more than two years in the state prison.

In addition to Secretary Root and house guests the party included Archbishop Farley, John D. Crimmins, Mr. Marx, Jacob A. Riss, James R. Sheffield, Frederick W. Hollis, all of New York, and Jule Brentano and Civil Service Commissioner Cooley.

General Oliver has had a military career of distinction. He served in the civil war as a volunteer officer and subsequently as an officer of the regular army establishment in both infantry and cavalry branches. For many years he has been identified with the national guard of New York and now is brigadier general of a brigade at Albany. Oliver is engaged in the iron business and is quite as prominent in commercial circles as in military affairs.

At a conference to day between President Roosevelt and Secretary Root it was decided to appoint Robert Shaw Oliver, of Albany, assistant secretary of war, vice Sanger, resigned. Sanger has decided to retire on account of the ill health of his wife.

STRIKE STOPS BUSINESS.

Chicago, July 13.—All freight handlers employed by the Chicago Terminal Transfer company at its Western avenue depot struck to day because of the discharge Saturday of twenty-two men who refused to handle freight from the Kellogg Switchboard and Signal company. Pickets turned away every teamster who sought to deliver goods at the depot. The teamsters made no objection and appeared to be in sympathy with the strikers. Business at the station is temporarily at a standstill.

President Curran of the freight handlers' union is trying to enlist the switchmen in his effort to cause a general strike. He had a conference with National President Hawley of the switchmen's union. While the result of the conference is not known the situation is considered serious.

BRYAN TALKS OF CLEVELAND

WHAT HE THINKS ABOUT HIS CANDIDACY.

A Comedy as It Stands, But a Tragedy If It Succeeds—Nomininee Must Stand by Kansas City Platform.

Milwaukee, July 13.—W. J. Bryan was interviewed to day on the Cleveland movement. Bryan said: "It is a comedy as it now stands, but a tragedy if it should succeed."

Bryan would not discuss politics, but declared all he desired to see was nomination by the Democratic party of some one who would stand by Democratic principles. "By Democratic," said Bryan, "I mean the principles enunciated at the Kansas City convention of the Democratic party, the last opportunity he had to declare the principles on which it stands."

Asked if he believed there was any danger of old line or Cleveland Democrats capturing the next Democratic convention Bryan said: "I do not think such a thing a probability. If there was such a probability danger would be the right word to use in connection with regard to the results it would work to the Democratic party."

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

Chicago, July 13.—The health department announces a discovery believed to foreshadow a permanent and complete victory over tuberculosis. The Chicago officials think the serum treatment just revealed by Edouard Maragliano, of Genoa, Italy, is an epoch making one, whereby tuberculosis germs may be banished from the system of one far advanced in the disease. They promise to test the method.

Prof. Maragliano claims to have produced, after more than thirty years of study and experiment, both in the laboratory, and the clinic, a serum which introduced beneath the skin of the arm, as vaccine lymph is in vaccination, produces a small circumscribed tuberculous sore, attended with slight fever for two or three days, after which the system is immune to consumption or tuberculosis, as the properly vaccinated individual is from smallpox.

The match ignited her clothing and before the blaze could be smothered it had severely burned her body. Miss Murphy was the only daughter of John S. Murphy, a well known merchant of this city. She was 21 years old and one of the most popular young ladies in her set. She was to have been married to Dr. Albert Anderson, of Montreal, Canada, upon her return from Denver.

Mayor Davis Outlines Duties for Guardians of the City's Peace.

Mayor Davis, with the approval of the police committee from the city council, has laid down a set of rules for the government of the police department. They are to go into effect this week and will certainly aid in getting the management of the department into systematic shape. The rules seem to be dictated by common sense, and will meet with approval. The rules:

First—The police department will be under the absolute directions of the chief of police and police committee.

Second—The second officer in command will be the captain of the night police of the night force, who will be in command at night and at all times subject to the order of the chief.

Third—No police officer will be permitted to drink in a bar room or other places in the city of Jacksonville during police hours or when in uniform. Violation of this rule means removal from the police force.

Fourth—Patrolmen will at all times be moving on their respective beats and no two or more officers shall converse together on duty except at the police station or by permission of officer in charge. Each officer must stay upon his respective beat until relieved, and no two officers are to go together on any beat.

Fifth—The day patrolmen will go on duty at six (6) o'clock a. m. and remain on duty until seven (7) o'clock p. m. Night patrolmen will go on duty at seven (7) o'clock in the evening and remain on duty until six (6) o'clock the next morning, except the officer in charge will make provision to relieve part of the men at five (5) o'clock a. m. Night patrolmen will be requested to do police duty on Saturday afternoon only, and such other days as the chief may desire.

Sixth—All state work outside of the city shall be eliminated from the police department, as this work belongs to the sheriff, his deputies and the constables.

Seventh—All officers in doing duty in a parade or any special duty, such as doing police duty at weddings, funerals or other like occasions shall refrain from smoking.

It is my desire to have a model police force. I desire each officer to do his duty, yet at the same time be courteous and gentlemanly. It is your duty to post yourself in regard to city affairs so as to give all possible information to strangers within our gates. Be courteous at all times to strangers. Yours, very truly,

John R. Davis, Mayor.

These rules and regulations were concurred in and have the approval of the police committee.

ARE CLASSED AS MURDERERS

JUDGE BREWER'S OPINION OF LYNCHERS.

The Eminent Justice Says There Is Going to be a Reaction Against the Atrocious Crimes Being Committed.

Milwaukee, July 13.—"Every man who participates in the lynching or burning of a negro is a murderer pure and simple." This was the opinion given by Associate Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court who is in this city. "Of course," explained Brewer, "there may be extenuating circumstances which would vary the degree of the crime, but the principal participants in the crime can be held by any court in the land for murder in the same degree as if the crime was committed by an individual. There is going to be a reaction against the atrocious crimes with which the papers have been filled. The fact that people are now interesting themselves in discussion of this problem makes manifest the fact there is a tendency toward a change. I expect it will come soon. I cannot say what form it will take, but there will be an uprising of popular feeling against lynchers which will result in legislation or a remedy in some other form."

LOYAL TO YATES

Story That Lorimer Will Support the Governor is Given Little Credence.

Springfield, Ill., July 11.—Whom will Congressman William Lorimer support for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois? Already this question is being discussed by politicians, with a considerable diversity of opinion on the subject. It seems to be the impression that the part to be played by Lorimer will be an important factor in the contest, especially in the earlier part of it; for the fight has already started in Cook county, where Charles S. Deneen has already undertaken to capture the county delegation. Mr. Lorimer in the game of politics is always expected to play the part of a fox. It is not presumed that he will show his hand or fully disclose his attitude until the fight is well under way—perhaps not until the point is reached where the probable winner is easily picked out. Thus far the "blonde boss" has maintained a discreet silence on the whole subject, dismissing all inquiries with the comment that it is too early to talk of candidates. While the correctness of this position from the standpoint of the practical politician, must be acknowledged, there is nothing to prevent any one from thinking of candidates even though he does not care to talk about them, and the general impression is that Mr. Lorimer is doing his share of the thinking—possibly he has already thought out his own plan of campaign.

The interest in the attitude of Lorimer is the large influence which he wields in Cook county politics; for in spite of an incessant newspaper war against him, extending over a period of several years, there is no escape from the reckoning with Lorimer's political power for any man who seeks to secure delegates to a state convention from the big county of Cook. In Chicago there is a sharp line of division between the Lorimer and anti-Lorimer politicians. This is so clear and so well that when a candidate for office comes out the first question to be settled is whether Lorimer is for or against him.

PROBABILITY NOT FOR DENEEN.

In the case of Mr. Deneen there are those who contend that eventually Mr. Lorimer will be found supporting him; but those who adhere to this opinion are comparatively few and apparently they are in possession of no facts upon which to base such a view, except the rather far fetched assumption that the Deneen boom will rapidly grow to such proportions as to indicate probable success, and that Lorimer's liking for winners will lead him to give Mr. Deneen his active support. So mysterious are the ways of Cook county politics that country politicians are seldom surprised at any turn events may take there; but few men in the state will be found having any knowledge of the relations of Lorimer with the men who are backing Deneen at present will expect any sort of an alliance between them. It is true that some years ago Lorimer and Deneen worked in the same harness, politically speaking, but that day has gone by and in recent years the state's attorney and the "boss" have been strangers. It seems to be clearly settled that the nature of Deneen's candidacy and the well known factional affiliations of men who thus far have come to his support will make the friendship of Lorimer wholly impossible; but on the other hand the hostility to Lorimer on the part of the Deneen boomers is so open and pronounced that the congressman, apart from any other consideration, might be expected to bring out an opposition candidate for the purpose of defeating Deneen.

SHERMAN'S REAL FORCE.

The character of Deneen's support is such as to make him, not only an anti-administration candidate, but distinctively an anti-Lorimer candidate. Some of the friends of former Speaker Sherman have said that the real object of his bitter and persistent fight upon the so-called "organization" faction, is not so much Gov. Yates as it is William Lorimer whose overthrow it is said, he would rather witness than almost anything else that could happen in the realm of Illinois politics. There is little doubt that Sherman is the real force behind Deneen's candidacy, although his hand has not been much in evidence, for the reason that so far the fight has been confined to Cook county. As soon as the state's attorney starts out into the country, Sherman, no doubt, will come to the front as his most important and influential backer. Deneen has the support of the anti-administration newspapers in Chicago, which are giving him extensive advertising, and all of the local politicians whose names have thus far appeared in connection with his candidacy are anti-administration men.

Thus the contest, so far as Deneen is concerned, promises to turn out a clear issue between the administration and anti-administration factions; and in such a contest one thing is certain with regard to Lorimer—he must of necessity be against Deneen.

A reasonably safe guess as to what Lorimer will do would be to predict that sooner or later he will be found backing a Chicago man for governor. Col. Frank O. Lowden has been largely advertised as likely to be the Lorimer candidate. This is entirely impractical. Lowden has not announced himself as a candidate and it is by no means certain that he will do so. It will probably be found that there are other men in Chicago whom Lorimer will favor, and that he will make them more available candidates than Lowden has given promise of being. Mr. Lorimer will certainly favor a man of Cook county origin, and it is not unlikely that he will favor a man of Cook county origin, and it is not unlikely that he will favor a man of Cook county origin.

WORK AND REST

When they alternate perfectly, a man will enjoy life. When they alternate imperfectly, a man will not enjoy life.

Nature is a just old lady. She seldom gives a man more than he needs. If he elects to live a lazy life she lets his muscles get flabby and his brain go sleepy. She never permits him to long for a faculty or a nerve or a muscle or a sinew that he does not use.

The proper way to keep your muscles or your brain is to use them up and let nature provide you with a fresh supply. Nature is assisted in this work by rest. One may rest sometimes by seeking a change of labor. Labor thus becomes a recreation—recreation.

To live happily in this world it is not enough to know how to work. A man must also know how to rest. The man who knows only how to work will soon wear out. If he doesn't wear out immediately his work will suffer in some way. No man can do his best work unless he alternates it with a little play or a little rest.

A man who can't drop his work from his mind as readily as he can drop his tools from his hands had better take a few weeks off to study the rest question. His nerves are not what they should be.

If a man wishes to keep his nerve, let him avoid nerves.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Ivy Clad Buildings.

So long as the walls of a building are sound and the bricks or stones, well cemented together, offer no fissures or cracks for the plant to force its way into, there is nothing whatever to fear. Should the ivy, however, find an opening, and so thrust itself into the wall, the natural and continuous expansion of its parts will tend to loosen the stones and hasten the decay of the building.

A fair growth of ivy on sound walls that allow of no advances beyond the superficial attachment of the claspers, or aerial roots, as they are called, is altogether beneficial. It promotes dryness and warmth, counteracts the corrosive action of the atmosphere and is at once a shelter and an ornament.

These aerial roots are not sources of nutrition, but merely serve as mechanical support to the climbing ivy. The contention that they sap the whole of the moisture from mortar, leaving it excessively dry and crumbling, has therefore no foundation in fact.—London Standard.

A Disguised Toast.

At one time the officers under Lord Howe refused to drink his health at their mess, for, though a splendid admiral, he was not popular in the navy on account of a certain shyness and want of tact with those about him. The chaplain, who was a protégé of his lordship, was mortified at this and determined that the officers should drink to Lord Howe. When called upon for a toast one day he said, "Well, gentlemen, I can think of nothing better at this moment than to ask you to drink the first two words of the Third Psalm, for a Scriptural toast for once may be taken from one of my cloth." The toast was drunk. Not one of the officers indicated by word or look that he was ignorant of the words alluded to. On referring to the Bible it was found that the Third Psalm begins, "Lord, how are they increased!"

Cowardly Brave Men.

It is related of a Missouri engineer that he does not hesitate to drive his machine at full speed through the blackest storm at night with washouts all around him, but that he is afraid to go home alone in the dark. If some one is not at the roundhouse to go with him he sits there till daylight.

It is the old story of every man having his own peculiar fears. There is a doctor we know who will cut a man to pieces and amble the while. He is an old soldier, and often faced the cannon's mouth. But he will betray the most affect terror if one of the harmless little elm tree worms happens to drop on his person.—Kansas City Journal.

Doctor's Recipe For Lemons.

Here is a scientific recipe for lemonade advocated by the medical profession: Wash the lemons thoroughly; slice thin and peel off. Cover with sugar, allowing the sugar to become saturated with the lemon juice by gently pressing the slices of lemon with a spoon. Then add water, slowly stirring all the while. Ice, if used, should be used sparingly. One-third of a lemon to a glass is about right for home use.

A Good Suggestion.

A TEXAS WONDER.

JOHN O'GROAT'S HOUSE.

John O'Groat's house was long a landmark in Britain and even to this day is one of the Englishman's starting points of measurement. "Land's End to John O'Groat's" signifying from one end of England to the other.

The old grandfather, Johnny O'Groat of history, was made arbitrator. He promised to have all satisfactorily settled by the time of the next annual meeting. Accordingly he built an eight sided house in which to hold the annual jubilee. This octagonal domicile was fitted with a door and a window on each side and a round table in the center. This arrangement made it possible for each family of the O'Groats to enter by his own door and to sit at a table which was practically "without a head."

This famous house was long a landmark in Britain and even to this day is one of the Englishman's starting points of measurement. "Land's End to John O'Groat's" signifying from one end of England to the other.

Lincoln's Fees.

As a rule, Abraham Lincoln's fees were less than those of other lawyers of his circuit. Justice Davis once remonstrated with him and insisted that he was doing a grave injustice to his associates at the bar by charging so little for his services. From 1850 to 1860 his income varied from $2,000 to $3,000, and even when he was recognized as one of the ablest lawyers of the state his fee book frequently shows charges of $3, $5 and $1 for advice, although he never went into court for less than $10. During that period he was at the height of his power and popularity; and lawyers of less standing and talent charged several times those amounts. But avarice was the least of his faults.—"The True Abraham Lincoln."

What He Is Worth.

"What a curious habit we have," remarked the street car philosopher, "of saying that a man is worth so and so many thousands of dollars. I know men who have many dollars who, judged from any reasonable standard that I know, are not worth anything at all. It is refreshing to hear occasionally of men who do happen to be worth a great deal even though they are rich and who are anxious that people should forget they have money and think of them only for their qualities. All the same, it always gives me an unpleasant turn when I see a man's worth put down in dollars."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Bismarck Incident.

It used to be the privilege of Austria's representative at any conference of representatives of the German states to smoke, the others refraining. This was supposed to be an acknowledgment of Austria's supremacy. At the first conference that Bismarck attended as Prussia's representative he began to puff smoke across the conference table as soon as the Austrian diplomat lit up. That set everybody present to smoking on equal terms, and Austria's supremacy got a blow.

Really Battered.

"I am a self-made man," said the proud individual. "Well, you are all right except as to your head," commented the other part of the conversation. "How's that?" "The part you talk with is out of proportion to the part you think with."—San Francisco Wasp.

A Feedback.

"Little Sister—Put it out of the room, put it out, because there's a canker!" "Little Brother—But maybe they won't eat all the cake!" "Little Sister—Oh, you can't trust her, because she won't eat it!" "Little Brother—You can't trust her, because she won't eat it!"

KILLED FINE STOCK

Seven Horses and a Mule Belonging to William Arnold are Mangled by Wabash Train.

Near Arnold crossing early Monday morning a wrecking train on the Wabash railroad killed seven horses and a mule belonging to Wm. Arnold, a prominent farmer and stock raiser. Five of the horses and the mule were killed outright and the other two animals were shot later in the day after an examination by Dr. Charles E. Scott, of this city.

The animals were all young and well bred, three of the horses were saddlers, three draft horses, one was a standard bred trotter and the mule was well trained and highly valued as a work animal.

The animals were not discovered until several hours after the accident happened and a dreadful sight was presented. They had been horribly mangled and mutilated, their bodies being literally torn to pieces. As soon as it was found that two of the animals were alive Dr. Scott was sent for and he hurried to the scene, where he at once ordered one of the animals yet alive shot and after a thorough examination of the other it was thought best to end its suffering also.

As soon as the news of the accident became known in the neighborhood a large crowd gathered and A. D. Arnold and John A. Bellatti went out from this city. From the crowd that had gathered appraisers were selected and the animals were placed worth $1,450.

It seems the horses were in a pasture nearby and it is thought they pushed open a gate leading to the road. This it is supposed they followed until they reached the railroad crossing, near which point they must have been grazing when killed.

The crossing is wider than the road way and is a most dangerous point for horses and stock of all kinds on this account.

SPRINGFIELD DRIVING CLUB CONTROVERSY

Affidavits are Made Concerning Thomas Allen's Horse.

President Wright and Secretary Brown, of the Gentlemen's Driving club of Springfield, have made a lengthy statement, relating to the suspension of two members for entering "ringers" in the Fourth of July matinee. The affidavits in the case will interest Morgan county horsemen.

In order to enlighten the people in regard to the row which is claimed to be on among the members of the Gentlemen's Driving club of Springfield, we, B. F. Wright, president, and Robert T. Brown, secretary, have been instructed to prepare this article of facts in our behalf.

The Gentlemen's Driving club was organized for the purpose of encouraging the owning and driving of a better class of horses and for the pleasure derived from driving them in friendly contests of speed. The club is on a first class financial basis, there is now in the treasury $670, and it is the intention of the club to hold matinee races every two weeks, at which time three or four races will be pulled off. The first matinee was a decided success, there was one horse entered in this contest which probably should not have been, but it was an error of the head of one of our members and not of his heart. There was no protest of the matter from any one, therefore it was dropped and the second, July Fourth, and both were a grand success. There were, however, some delays through misunderstandings in getting the horses out on the track for each heat, but this matter will be adjusted hereafter. We trust that our patrons will pardon the error.

THE ACTION IN ALLEN'S CASE.

It was at the meeting held July Fourth that T. W. Allen entered a bay gelding which he called Dick, in the three-minute class race. Some of the members had heard that Dick was a ringer and was not eligible to start in the race he was entered in, and President B. F. Wright and Kirby, of the race committee, went to Mr. Allen before the race and told him they understood this horse, Dick, was not entitled to start in the race and if he (Allen) did start him, and it would be proven that Dick was not the horse's name he would lay himself liable to the strict rules of the club and also of the American Trotting association, of which the Gentlemen's Driving club is a member. He replied that he understood the rules and would take the chances. Mr. Wright and Mr. Kirby asked Mr. Allen where he got the horse and he said he bought him of a man named Smith, of Alexander, Ill., and stated that he did not know Mr. Smith's first name. He started in the race and finished in seventh position, the first heat, and the next heat he won quite easily in 1:14 1/2, about nine seconds slower than the horse could go the same distance. During the pendency of the second heat, three men were found upon the grounds who knew the horse Dick to be Goldseeker, and after a careful examination of the horse was made the following affidavit in regard to the same was given by them all:

AFFIDAVITS "DICK" IS A RINGER.

Springfield, July 4, 1903.—The county of Sangamon and state of Illinois.

The undersigned after being duly sworn, deposes and says that the horse "Dick," owned and entered by T. W. Allen on the above day and date, in the races at Springfield, Ill., as a horse without a record, so far as known, is none other than the horse known and raced at the matinee at Jacksonville, Ill., during the season of 1903, as "Goldseeker."

Signed, William N. Haigrove.

W. A. Masters.

G. S. Beckman.

Subscribed and sworn to before me above day and date.

B. F. Wright, Notary Public.

Upon the affidavit of these three men the judges declared all bets off on the heat and sent the horse and driver to the barn, which is a rule of the American Trotting association, by which our judges are compelled to abide.

As stated before the Gentlemen's Driving club is a member of the American Trotting association and must be governed by its rules and regulations. Any violation of their laws subjects to fines and expulsions, therefore, if any member of the club violates a rule he must be expelled from the club until he is reinstated by the American Trotting association. The president of the club does not do these things nor have them done. When a horse is entered in a race and if once started he is in the hands of the judges who act under the rules of the American Trotting association and must abide by them.

CASE OF DAVID HARUM.

Mr. T. W. Allen was one of the first men asked to become a member of this organization and the club as a whole feel very badly to think that he has made the bad move that has done so much harm and has given the club so much notoriety. Mr. Allen also had a horse named David Harum, in the first race pulled off upon his being sent to the barn. Dick, alias Goldseeker, was started Harum in the second race and free-for-all race.

An Appetizer.

In the family of Mr. H., treasurer of one of our states, was a small boy of four who was the possessor of a fine rat terrier. One day the dog mysteriously disappeared, and the child, Ralph, was heartbroken. Soon afterward Mrs. H. gave an informal dinner to other state officers and their wives, and Master Ralph was allowed to be at the table under promise of good behavior. Things went on smoothly till the meat course, when a fine roasted pig was brought in, and Ralph thought his long lost pet was going to be served to the guests. He arose in his chair, pointed at the pig and with tears in his eyes and voice cried: "Oh, my doggie, my doggie! I want my doggie!" Good Housekeeping.

Lips on Swearing.

Senator Fessenden once came roaring at President Lincoln over a question of patronage. The president listened till the storm was over, then asked: "You are an Episcopalian, aren't you, Fessenden?" "Yes, sir; I belong to that church." "I thought so. You Episcopallians all swear alike. Seward is an Episcopalian. Stanton is a Presbyterian; you ought to hear him swear." The True Abraham Lincoln.

A PART OF THE PLAY.

Shaking These Brought Some Questions About a Famous Play.

The course of true art does not always run smooth, as it is said, as for example in the theater of Tennessee. In the fourth act of a certain play there is a theater within a theater, as in Shakespeare's "Hamlet," only that some of the dramatic persons have to mix with the public in the galleries and to take the chief actors, who duty faints. As soon as the gentlemen had taken their places among the gods and begun to hiss and whistle the policeman on duty came down upon them like a wolf on the fold, and before they could utter a word of explanation he and his colleagues "nubbed" two, removed them by force and took them to the next police station, where they were charged with disorderly conduct at a public place. They protested that they had only done their duty, but the police laughed their explanations to scorn. The public left the theater en masse to see what was happening to the actors, but the latter had already been consigned to the cells. The crowd in the street before the station house grew rapidly in numbers, and the noisy protests threatened to culminate in serious disorders. Fortunately, the manager of the theater appeared before the superintendent and by the light of a lamp declaimed, with manuscript in hand, the whole fourth act, in order to show that hissing was an essential part of the performance. Only then did the representatives of the law release the innocent actors.

Nativity of the Potato.

There is as much mystery as history connected with the common tuber called the potato. Its nativity, original place in the kingdom of nature and several other things regarding it are still open questions. As to its nativity, the weight of argument seems to favor the tropical or subtropical regions of America. There is a tradition that the vines once grew to monstrous size and that the "balls" were of the "bigness of melons," and at that time the roots were not tubers, the edible parts growing among the branches. It seems that they were first introduced into Europe in the year 1605.

A Royal Romance.

Carmen Sylva, the royal authoress, met her husband, the king of Roumania, in quite a romantic way. As a girl of seventeen she was running down the staircase of the palace at Berlin when her foot slipped on the marble, and she would have fallen to the floor below, but at the moment Prince Charles of Hohenzollern stepped from an anteroom and caught her in his arms. She did not accept him, although he made her the offer at once. In joke—for it was then most unlikely—she said she preferred to remain queen of herself, but if she became queen of any country at all she would prefer Roumania. Eight years afterward the beautiful Carmen was married to Prince Charles, who had been proclaimed king of Roumania, and thus she realized her ambition.

When Water Was Avoided.

Until comparatively recent times there was a medical prejudice against drinking water. Sir William Vaughan in his "Natural and Artificial Directions For Health" declared that water "ought seldom to be drunk." Another doctor admitted that it might be healthful for children, but not for men—"except some odd, abstemious one among a thousand per chance, degenerate and of a dogmatic nature, for dogs of nature do abhor wine." Indeed, the recommendation of water as a beverage was supposed to be the sign of the quack. Even Wesley in his "Primitive Physic" wrote of it with caution: "Drink only water if it agrees with your stomach; if not, good, clear small beer."

A Quack-Deed.

Dagonet in the "Petrescu" tells a story of two little girls who were trying to explain what sort of a dog it was they had seen. Said one little girl: "It was one of those funny ones you know, the ones that are a dog and a half-lion and half-a dog high." Said the other: "You must know the sort. It's a dog that only has four legs, but looks as if it ought to have six." It may interest Dagonet to hear of a fairly apt definition that a Public Opinion man once heard applied to the doghouse—"the dog with the Louis XIV. legs."

Desert Gums.

In 1890 a desert in the northwest of

New South Wales wounded a kangaroo. The animal went off through the mulga and the gait bush at a trot, the first for the hunter to follow and was soon out of sight. The hunter was a bushman and did not despair. He followed the blood trail, hopeful of a door, search and a speary bag. At one point of the pursuit it may be that the trail grew faint and necessitated a closer inspection. Anyway the hunter stooped and picked up a piece of stone. This he examined. The red spot was not on it. It was in it. It was not blood that he saw; it was opal. Such

FAVOR CARNIVAL

Merchants' Association Takes Favorable Action—Will Confer With Elks' Committee To Day.

A meeting of the Retail Merchants' association was held last night for the purpose of discussing a street carnival project. J. S. Hackett presided and T. H. Curtis served as secretary. The committee appointed recently to ascertain the sentiment of merchants concerning a fair or carnival reported favorably, stating that they found nearly all merchants wanted something of the kind. The committee gave a careful estimate of the cost of a carnival alone and also with the added features of a horse show and a band contest. Before the meeting adjourned a committee from the Elks was received, that lodge having taken action favorable to the carnival project. Messrs. E. C. Crabtree, W. C. Howe and Charles Gillman compose the merchants' committee and they were commended for their report and continued for further investigation. They will meet to day with the Elks committee. Messrs. H. M. Tucker, Frank Byrns, E. S. VanAnglen, George Scott and Charles Gillman and the two committees will decide whether it will be better for the Elks or the merchants to back the project.

In addition to talk about the carnival several matters relating to the welfare of the association were discussed and a number of letters were read from firms requesting assistance.

VISITED DECATUR

Local Committee Well Entertained by Union Men There.

Messrs. Arthur Kessler, Frank Corra and George J. Chambers, the Labor day committee, which went to Decatur Sunday to consult with the Labor committee of that city, report a royal good time. They were met at the train by a committee, consisting of Messrs. H. C. Dorneman, W. E. Lawrence, E. W. Barkman, S. E. Hamlin and Charles Baquet, who proceeded at once to show them the town. Free passes were furnished by the street railway company, and the visitors were taken to all points of interest, including Fairview park, where their Labor day celebration will be held. The director of Goodman's band also furnished the party free passes to the band tournament being held there.

The local committee was altogether delighted with their reception and with Decatur generally. They report fifty good labor unions there, and a good class of business men, who work in harmony with the unions of that city.

No decision as to where the local unions will celebrate can be arrived at until the Peoria committee is heard from. The reports of both committees will be laid before the entire Labor day committee here.

THE DEATH RECORD

SMITH.
Capt. George C. Smith, a veteran of the civil war, died Saturday afternoon at Central Hospital for the Insane at the age of 73 years. He had been brought to the asylum here some time ago from the Soldiers' home in Quincy. It has not yet been learned here in what regiment he served during the war, nor whether he has relatives living. Captain Kirby has written to the authorities at Quincy, but has not yet received a reply.

Funeral services were held at the Rotger undertaking establishment Sunday afternoon, and were in charge of Matt Starr Post, G. A. R., Commander Wm. Kirby and Chaplain J. W. Melton being in charge. The remains were conveyed to Jacksonville cemetery and there laid to rest with military honors. The bearers were Capt. W. A. Kirby, W. J. Marcum, George W. Fox, J. W. Melton, L. L. Goheen and J. B. Williamson.

PROBST.

Christian Probst died at his home near Ebenezer Sunday night at 11:45 o'clock, at the age of 73 years. Death was due to paralysis.

Deceased was born in Germany, and came to this country, directly to Morgan county, in 1856. He worked as a farm hand for John Rexroat and others in this vicinity until 1861, in which year he came to this city and entered the employ of the gas company. This position he held until 1872, when he entered the employ of F. F. Schmalz, who was engaged in the grocery business. By strict attention to business he gained a competence, which in 1876 he invested in a farm, upon which he resided to the time of his death.

Mr. Probst was united in marriage in 1861 to Miss Clara Schmalz, sister of F. F. Schmalz. To this union four children were born, as follows: Mrs. F. J. Garland, Mrs. Wm. Wilkinson, both of this city; Miss Emma Probst, at home, and William Probst, of Chicago. All of these, together with his wife, survive him.

During his residence in this county, Mr. Probst has always been known as a man of integrity and upright dealing, and no man has enjoyed to a greater extent the honor and esteem of his neighbors. By his death the community loses a valued and respected citizen, and one who will be missed by his neighbors no less than by the bereaved family.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning. Short services will occur at the residence, seven miles northwest of the city at 10 o'clock. The regular services will be held at the German M. E. church in this city at 11:30. Interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

FUNERALS.

WOODS.

The funeral of the late A. C. Woods took place Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Osborne on West College avenue and was largely attended. Music for the solemn occasion was supplied by Miss Ailsie Goodrick, Miss Helen Larimore, Messrs. J. L. Johnson and T. H. Rapp.

After the first hymn Rev. Mr. Thrapp read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer. Then came the second hymn, after which the pastor, Rev. A. L. T. Ewert preached a short sermon on 2 Tim. 4:7-8, as the words most appropriate to the long and honorable career of the departed. He strongly and beautifully emphasized the thought of the text as related to the experience of the deceased. "Life to a degree is a fight. Many battles are to be won. Opposition to the Christian life may come, but victory is sure if we persist in the spirit of the Master. Life is a course to be run and a race to be won. Life is a unit. The character that we have at death is the one we will have to begin with in the world beyond. This opens up a world of meaning to the words of our text. To the one who dies with such a hope as this there is no fear in death. To such a one death becomes the day of recognition and coronation. The savior will now introduce to the Father and the glorious company of heaven his disciple. While the Christian life is a painful life for the present, yet God adds thereto the reward of the beyond. There will be the crown of life that fadeeth not away. The transition will be a promotion where there will be no more sin, but blessedness for evermore. Bro. Woods was a life long Christian. His motto was to be what he professed. He was a Christian gentleman—in politeness, thoughtfulness and acts of kindness. He was a member of Centenary M. E. church and filled the many offices with marked ability. He was ever consistent and lived before his fellow men a life of rare beauty. He did not aspire to be great as some men count greatness, but he did aspire to be genuine and so goodness became a quality of being that ruled his life. He was not perfect, nor did he claim perfection. Nothing could have been further from his spirit. What he did endeavor to perfect was a sincere life of faith. His relation to the church hereafter was ever a subject of thought. He felt most deeply that the church had a duty to perform in this world and that it was its duty to be a light to the world.

with him and expressed my desire to see him out. You said he, I am glad to be out and this may be the last time I shall ever be able to come. How true that was. I was also much impressed with his devotion to his sister, Mrs. Holliday. Both would come together. I thought how nice and noble that was. He was a great reader of the 'New York Advocate.' For years I do not know how long he had been a subscriber to that church paper. He took a keen interest in the work of the church as a whole and eagerly watched the trend of the religious life of the world. To him the religious life was not a mere profession, but a spirit of life. It was to him the power of a new motive. This life was through Jesus Christ. For him to live was Christ, and to die gain. His was quite a period of suffering, but amidst it all he exhibited a calm patient spirit. He appreciated so fully all the kind acts so constantly bestowed by his devoted daughters. These sisters deserve special notice for their faithfulness and tender care for their father. Bro. Woods often felt that he required too much attention, but the daughters never left him alone. At last rest has come. He has gone home.

Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery, where the grave was hidden beneath beautiful flowers. The bearers were Messrs. G. R. Metcalf, W. C. Green, J. W. Melton, J. R. Loar, C. C. Phelps and F. J. Andrews.

CAUGHT IN A LOG JAM.
Thrilling Fishing Experience in Northern Michigan.

Upon one occasion in northern Michigan I was trout fishing in company with a veteran timber cruiser, a man who knew everything about the rough bush life, says a writer in World's Work. In time we reached a bend in the stream where a lot of small logs had jammed during the spring freshet. My comrade unconcernedly ventured upon the logs, and before I could follow by some mischance he stepped upon a loose one and instantly disappeared. Had I not been looking at him it is likely I should have imagined he had crossed and gone into the brush upon the farther side. One log of the mass was rolling, and a hand showed at one side of it. To dart across and seize the hand occupied very few seconds, but to my horror I could not pull him up through the narrow space through which he had slipped. To see a foot upon the log either side the opening and shove with all strength was the only hope. For seconds I clung to the wrist and strained mightily. Slowly the logs separated and up he came till he was able to twist upon his stomach across a log. Half drowned as he was he had not lost his nerve. "Do-don't let 'em squeeze back on me!" he gasped, and a moment later he was on his feet. Most men would have weakened then, but he was iron. He had swallowed a lot of water, had been chocked by fear with an awful death, yet he had no idea of proving false. The logs were slowly slipping farther apart and I was standing like a certain large gentleman of Rhodes and unable to stand much more spreading or to spring to either side, while, of course, to slip into the water meant to enter the trap he had just escaped. In a few seconds he seized my hand and one quick haul carried me to firm footing. The logs at once closed like a gigantic trap. When we reached solid ground my comrade almost collapsed, and for half an hour he was a very sick man. "Later he said: 'I held my breath as long as I could, calculating you might try to get me, an' pardner, I'll never forget that little turn. I reckon I was in a mighty tight place.'"

TWO BALL GAMES

Jacksonville Wins in Springfield and Lost at the Home Grounds.

"Uncle Bill" Coleman led his braves to victory in the game against Myers Brothers in Springfield Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 7. Abernathy was on the slab for the locals and he distributed his benders so well that for three innings the home team was kept guessing. In the fourth, however, they landed on him and four runs came in. Jacksonville also struck a batting streak in this inning and in addition to the run made in the second inning they cantered around the circuit three times, tying the score. It was a saw-finish from now until the close of the ninth, when good stick work netted two runs and the game.

The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of Cadigan, who wielded the willow at opportune times and contributed in no small degree to run getting. The locals showed poor judgment in base running and had four men thrown out at the plate. The score:

Jacksonville—W. Cadigan, catcher; Abernathy, pitcher; Hagel, shortstop; Magill, first base; Livingston, center field; Evans, third base; Kennedy, right field; Hackett, left field; Hanchen, second base. Myers Brothers—Golden, catcher; Walters, pitcher; J. Cadigan, shortstop; Barr, first base; Wright, second base; Griffith, third base; D. Cadigan, left field; Carter, center field; VanMeter, right field.

Innings— 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Myers Brothers ..... 0 0 0 4 0 2 0 1 0-7
Jacksonville ..... 0 1 0 3 3 0 0 0 2-9

Three-base hit—Griffith. Two-base hits—D. Cadigan (2), W. Cadigan (2), J. Cadigan. Double plays—Myers Brothers, 4. Bases on balls—Off Abernathy, 2; off Walters, 2. Struck out—By Walters, 10; by Abernathy, 5. Hit by pitched ball—By Walters, 5. Wild pitches—Walters, 2; Abernathy 1. Time of game—1:50. Umpire—Burns.

DEFEATED DUBLIN.

The game at West Side ball park between the Pekin Socials and the Dublins of this city Sunday afternoon was a decidedly one-sided affair, the score being 6 to 0 in favor of Pekin. The Socials started the run getting in the first inning and succeeded in sending three men across the plate before the side was retired. Two more runs were added in the fourth and one in the ninth and this practically tells the story of the game, as the Dublins drew a blank throughout the contest. The score:

Innings— 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Batteries—Dublin, Baker, Everett and Magill; Pekin, Becker and Stout.
